

Sept 16th, 1914.

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co.,
Milwaukee, Wis.

Gentlemen:-

Your favor of the 11th is at hand and contents noted.

My granddaughter to whom I made payable a part of my policy has been married some two years, and is in poor health, and possibly will not live as long as I do. I therefore deem it best to cancel that request as to making her and my wife beneficiaries, and will later arrange this in some other way. Please cancel the order given by me to make $1000 payable to Grace M. West, and the balance to my wife, Lillian C. West.

I am returning the note signed by myself for $1.00. I have made an s where there was ye. If this does not answer your purpose send another note, but I wish this ~~amount~~ $600 at once, so please try and accept this note.

Very truly yours